

Anthi Charalambous

Anthi Charalambous is a Chemical Engineer by background, graduated from the National Technical University of Athens (NTUA), and holds MSc in Environmental Engineering, Master Degree in Business Administration (MBA) and P.Dipl. in Renewable Energy and Energy Management. Anthi Charalambous has 25 years of professional experience in several posts and positions and countries in the fields of energy and environment i.e. environmental protection, climate change, circular economy, renewables, energy efficiency. Today she has founded the environmental NGO KyklOIKOdromio and is the Director of ideopsis Ltd energy and environmental consulting.

During her professional career has organised many hundreds of capacity building workshops, has developed participatory processes for stakeholders for several environmental/energy topics. She is an approved VET trainer for the topics of renewables, energy management, greenhouse gases verification, circular economy and solid waste management. Participating as national expert in many ISO Committees, most importantly ISO/TC 323 Circular economy, ISO/TC 323/WG 5 Product circularity data sheet, ISO/TMBG/SAG ESG Strategic Advisory Group on Environmental, social, governance (ESG) ecosystem, CYS/MC 14.3 Sustainable & Resilient Cities, CYS/MC 15.04 Environmental Advisory Bodies (IEC ACEA, CEN-CLC SABE).

Nominated as member in the CEN/CENELEC Industry Advisory Forum, and nominated as champion for the circular economy Working Group for the year 2021. Elected Chairwoman of the International Solar Energy Society (Cyprus) for the period 2022-2024. Nominated in the Climate Change Committee of the International Alliance of Women for the period 2023-2025.