

Benjamin Strzelecki

Youth Advisor on Climate Change to the UN Secretary-General

Benjamin Strzelecki is a leading young voice on climate action and energy transition. Benjamin has led and implemented projects in partnership with the Global Renewables Alliance, IRENA, SEforALL, IEA and UNIDO, and he is an advisor on climate change to the UN Secretary-General. Benjamin was the Co-Chair of Student Energy Summit 2023, the world's largest youth-led conference on energy transition that was held at the margins of COP28 and brought together 600 youth from 130 countries.