

Marinos Papaioakeim

Head of the Green & Entrepreneurship Unit, CARDET

Dr. Marinos Papaioakeim is the Head of the Green & Entrepreneurship unit at CARDET. He earned his PhD in International Relations from the University of Cyprus. Marinos brings extensive experience in designing and developing innovative curricula and interdisciplinary educational programs. His expertise includes curriculum development, program design, and evaluation, applicable to both online and face-to-face educational formats. Over the past five years, he has been actively involved in numerous national and international projects, serving in capacities such as project manager, trainer, and researcher. Additionally, Marinos contributes to the sector of Vocational Education and Training (VET), where he has led several initiatives, notably focusing on integrating entrepreneurship and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into VET centers.