

Dr. Silvia M. Velázquez Rodríguez

Technical Counsellor, Ministry of Education, Vocational Training and Sports, Spain

PhD in Chemistry from the University of La Laguna, Tenerife, Spain (1995). Postdoctoral researcher at the University of Cambridge, UK (1996). Master's Degree in Applied Chemistry from the University of La Laguna, Tenerife, Spain (2012). She has published several scientific and pedagogical papers. She has participated as a speaker at conferences, seminars and workshops. She has been teaching coordinator of educational innovation programmes of the Department of Education and Universities of the Regional Government of the Canary Islands (2006-2019), she is currently technical counsellor of the Subdirectorate General of Territorial Cooperation and Educational Innovation of the Ministry of Education, Vocational Training and Sports of Spain.